

Frame Colours

What are powder coatings? Powder coatings are an environmentally friendly polymer based coating similar in structure to plastic. Essentially, the powder coating process melts and fuses a plastic-like protective layer around the chair frame. The high heat fusion process produces a coating that has excellent hardness, chip resistance and corrosion resistance, while maintaining the aesthetic appearances available in liquid paint. You will find powder coatings in use on many industrial and commercial products such as lawn mowers, domestic appliances, sports equipment, outdoor furniture and store shelving.

We have two powder coating paint systems in our US manufacturing facility which allow us to meet all your colour needs.
